

RESIDENCE OF MR. C.J. VANDERBILT.

New York Times (1857-1922); Jun 18, 1879; ProQuest Historical Newspapers: The New York Times
pg. 5

---

RESIDENCE OF MR. C. J. VANDERBILT.

From the Hartford Times, June 17.

We learn that Mr. Cornelius J. Vanderbilt has placed in the hands of Mr. George B. Post, a New-York architect, directions to plan a first-class residence to be erected on Vanderbilt Hill, on Farmington-avenue. It is not yet decided by the architect whether to have it all of ornamental stone, or pressed brick with ornamental trimmings; but that it will be a splendid and costly mansion, with all first-class appointments, there is no doubt. Work is expected to begin on it about the close of the Summer, and it will be a year from the beginning before it is completed.

---

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.